

Search this career on Unifrog!

Structural Engineer

Entry routes:

University degree, Apprenticeship or Higher National Diploma (HND)

You usually need GCSEs at grades 9-4 and post 16 qualifications like A-Levels, sometimes including maths and science, beforehand.

Character virtues

responsibility, creativity, resilience

Click here to watch the video

Structural engineer salary:

£22,000 to £70,000 average per year

Structural engineer working hours:

40 to 42 hours per week

UK growth:

+41.4% from 2020 to 2025, creating 897,801 jobs

West Midlands growth:

+38.2% from 2020 to 2025, creating 64,976 jobs

Key words

sustainability, construction, emissions, reimagine, design, apprenticeships